2021 AMERICAN SCHOOL & UNIVERSITY EDUCATIONAL INTERIORS SHOWCASE

CROW ISLAND SCHOOL CITATION

Mary Lyon Elementary School—Tacoma, Washington

IBI Group—Seattle, Washington

Associated Firm: Erickson McGovern Architects

“The beautifully executed three-story library at the heart of the building sets a tone of calm, fun, and academic exploration. Great use of curves in ceiling, floor and on railings; the atrium light works well with the three-story library space. Soft forms and height appropriate nooks make for an intimate experience.”

—2021 Jury

COLLEGIATE CITATION

AMP Lab @ WMU—Grand Rapids, Michigan

Progressive AE—Grand Rapids, Michigan

“The exposed rough materials of the historic structure and the highly manufactured materials of the new interventions create an excellent backdrop for a program focused on design and fabrication.”

—2021 Jury

SPECIAL CITATIONS

Mt. San Jacinto College Temecula Valley Campus—Temecula, California

19six Architects—Santa Barbara, California

“Program spacing is well-designed with full transparency into all spaces; the natural lighting is integrated to enhance the natural beauty from the community. The design skillfully fits a higher-ed program into an unconventional footprint. Great use of different materials and colors to redefine space.”

—2021 Jury

GOLD CITATIONS

Cannon STEM Elementary School, Grapevine-Colleyville ISD—Grapevine, Texas

Huckabee—Fort Worth, Texas

“Very creative collaboration spaces. The subtle palette of materials and colors tie together a variety of scales of common space to create a multi-layered experience. The use of the hexagon clouds helps to break up the ceiling. The design provides flexibility and multiple learning opportunities.”—2021 Jury

Dressel Elementary School—St. Louis, Missouri

Ittner Cordogan Clark Group—St. Louis, Missouri

Associated Firms: Kreher Engineering, William Tao & Associates, Civil Engineering Design Consultants

“Elegantly executed. The plan is thoughtful and orderly, but with enough complexity to make it interesting. The material palette is pleasing and durable. The small group spaces for each classroom wing are the right balance of open but separate. Storage is appropriately integrated to make multipurpose spaces useful for many groups.”

–2021 Jury

University of Texas at Austin, Texas One Stop—Austin, Texas

McKinney York Architects—Austin, Texas

“Beautiful modern intervention into a historic building. Details give an elegant feel to what could have been a very business-oriented space. Great use of furniture to maximize and divide space into different areas.”

–2021 Jury

SILVER CITATIONS

Dan Jones Center for Research and Innovation—Cincinnati, Ohio

SHP—Cincinnati, Ohio

“The use of book stacks to create a focused reading area and mezzanine within the larger space is innovative and effective. The materials create a warm space that feels relevant to teens without condescending. Great use of natural light with the wall of windows across from the Brain Cave.”

–2021 Jury

Liberty Hall Academic Center—Union, New Jersey

NK Architects—Morristown, New Jersey

“Simple and direct. Good use of texture and light to provide vitality. Dynamic spaces and detailing.”

–2021 Jury

Marvin Laser Recital Hall—Carson, California

Architecture for Education—Pasadena, California

“A thoughtful solution for a technically challenging program in a small space. Very good selection for acoustics.”

–2021 Jury

Rosewood Elementary—Broken Arrow, Oklahoma

GH2 Architects, LLC—Tulsa, Oklahoma

“Love the integration of different colors and the blocks that are used to unify the spaces and the exterior. Enjoyed the flexible furniture and fun design in the media center. Very creative collaboration spaces.”

–2021 Jury

San Marcos CISD, Rodriguez Elementary School—San Marcos, Texas

Perkins&Will —Austin, Texas

“An exciting model for co-teaching classrooms, with flexibility for a variety of activities. Creative use of movable furniture. Good use of color to stimulate learning.”

–2021 Jury

BRONZE CITATIONS

Center for Nursing and Health Sciences—St. Louis, Missouri
KAI—St. Louis, Missouri

“Clear wayfinding—color and textures are used to reduce the corridor-centric plan.”
–2021 Jury

Columbia City High School—Columbia City, Indiana
Fanning Howey—Indianapolis, Indiana

“Good use of flexible furniture...we like the center learning commons and use of wood ceiling treatments throughout.”
–2021 Jury

Creighton Academy—Phoenix, Arizona
SPS+ Architects—Scottsdale, Arizona

“Very creative collaboration spaces. The open-concept features use furniture and glass to help create individual spaces for different types of learning modalities. A bold approach to common areas that is sure to please the students.”
–2021 Jury

Dover High School & Regional Career Technical Center—Dover, New Hampshire
HMFH Architects, Inc.—Cambridge, Massachusetts
(Associated Firms: PC Construction Company (General Contractor), Nobis Engineering (Civil), Garcia, Galuska, DeSousa Consulting Engineers (MEP), Foley Buhl Roberts & Associates (Structural), Halvorson | Tighe & Bond (Landscape Architect))

“Landscaping and changes in the exterior façade break up the building, like the division of different spaces and careers inside the school.”
–2021 Jury

New Early Learning Center—Des Plaines, Illinois
DLA Architects, Ltd.—Itasca, Illinois

Associated Firms: 20/10 Engineering Group, LLC, WT Group, Amalgamated Endeavors Incorporated Structural Engineers

“Each of the shared ‘learning hubs’ has a clear focus and are thoughtfully designed to achieve that function. Incorporation of biophilic elements, including daylighting and murals, creates a dynamic but calm environment.”
–2021 Jury

University of Texas Welcome Center—Austin, Texas
McKinney York Architects—Austin, Texas

“A sophisticated implementation of school brand in a space that calls for a strong campus identity. The use of warm colors, wood and natural light transforms the space.”
–2021 Jury
