2023 EDUCATIONAL INTERIORS SHOWCASE

The first and most-respected competition honoring education interior design excellence

HAVE AN EXCEPTIONAL PROJECT THAT DESERVES NATIONAL RECOGNITION?

Want to showcase your best work to the largest audience? American School & University's Educational Interiors Showcase gives your education project a better forum and more national exposure than any other interiors competition. Not just a seasonal magazine, show display, or online list of projects, this special issue is part of a multi-media brand devoted to the best in educational interiors and facility planning.

The August Educational Interiors Showcase issue will put your school or university project in front of decision-makers in the educational facilities market: American School & University subscribers and thousands of additional AS&U readers who receive the print edition, viewers of the digital edition of the Educational Interiors Showcase, bonus circulation to school boards, and an unlimited audience visiting your project on the industry-leading SchoolDesigns.com site. Plus an extended audience from key industry partners. See "Who Sees Your Interiors Showcase Project?" in this brochure for more information about AS&U's unmatched opportunities for exposure.

Enter any project completed in the past five years in one of twenty-seven interior project categories, from administrative spaces to vocational/industrial-arts areas. The Educational Interiors Showcase is the industry guidebook for administrators planning and designing interior learning environments. It's an investment that pays off.

Enter your outstanding projects today for your chance to receive national recognition for you, your project, and your school or university.

More than half of those who receive an American School & University design issue share it - with an average of four colleagues. That means an audience of more than 182,000 can see your project.¹

Education facility professionals who receive American School & University design issues report that they have used them for the following:²

- To find an architect or view their work
- To learn about the latest innovations in education design
- To get ideas for their next project
- To see the latest educational facilities built in their region

1. Publisher's Own Data and Publisher's Survey
2. Publisher's Survey.

Entries are accepted for instructional, administrative and service facilities for public, private and parochial schools of all levels, up to and including technical, community/junior colleges, and colleges and universities. Projects must have been completed after January 1, 2018 or under contract for construction on or before September 1, 2023.

JUDGING

Each year, AS&U carefully selects an independent jury to represent a mix of school administrators and AIA-member architects. The jury evaluates and selects outstanding projects for publication. Primary consideration will be given to the design firm's solution to the stated educational program requirements. The jury will consider:

- Problem statement and technical specifications
- Architect/Designer response to the program requirements
- Aesthetic characteristics of the solution
- Overall presentation of materials

AWARDS & RECOGNITION

CROW ISLAND (K-12) AND COLLEGIATE AWARDS

The jury will select two Grand Prize winners, one in each of the K-12 and post-secondary categories. Deluxe commemorative plaques featuring the project's pages from the magazine will be presented for both the firm and its client.

CITATIONS

The jury will award Gold, Silver and Bronze Citations to additional projects exhibiting exemplary features. Commemorative Citation plaques will be presented for both the firm and its client.

OUTSTANDING DESIGNS

Projects that exhibit outstanding designs or qualities also will be recognized and selected for publication as Outstanding Designs. These projects are an important part of producing the comprehensive sourcebook for administrators that is the Educational Interiors Showcase. A commemorative plaque will be presented to these firms.

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

ENTRY INFORMATION

Entry Form Due March 10, 2023 • Portfolio Due April 26, 2023

COMPLETE THE ATTACHED ENTRY FORM: DUE MARCH 10

Complete an entry form for each project you wish to enter and email to:
Heather Buzzard, American School & University: hbuzzard@endeavorb2b.com

Or enter online at SchoolDesigns.com
